

Durga Temple of Northern Virginia, Mr. Sant Gupta, President

Having lived in the U. S. for over 50 years, I am thoroughly disgusted to see the fragmentation polarization and unwillingness to compromise in our society. We must re-educate and remind ourselves we are Americans first and other designations a distant second. There is so much that unite us and that is where we must keep our focus. We must be grateful to live in a country which is constantly striving to become better with each generation. Above all, we are a nation where rule of law is paramount. If we treat each other with mutual respect, compassion, and care, we will continue to make our country an envy of the world. Finally, let each of us promise that we will do our part to achieve these ideals.

May God Bless you and the USA
